Celebrating innovation

The PetQuip Awards have become an established and prestigious event in the pet industry calendar with companies acknowledging that winning such an accolade can give their sales a terrific boost, whether they are retailers or suppliers.

“Many of the British firms who have entered in the past have reported on the value of the awards as an aid to boosting their businesses. The awards have helped in cementing company credibility in the market place and led to numerous promotional opportunities. The popularity of the awards has resulted in the organisers of PATS welcoming the event as part of their plans for the Telford show and we now present the PATS New Product Awards at the official dinner too,” said organiser Pat Flynn, PetQuip’s Trade Association Manager.

The presentation ceremony and official awards dinner takes place each year on the first night of PATS Telford, the international trade event for the pet trade held in the UK. UK Pet Retailer of the Year and International Retailer/Wholesaler/Distributor of the Year are also presented on the night.

Entries are invited each year from March through to June with judging by independent specialists taking place in August. Winners are only announced on the night and not before, adding to the excitement at PATS. Visit www.petquip.com/awards to see past winners.

Putting Buyers With Suppliers

The promotion of trade between buyers and suppliers, both internationally and in the UK, is a prime objective for the PetQuip Association.

PetQuip target key distributors and wholesalers, pet retail chains and independents, mail order and internet retailers to meet with UK suppliers in a relaxed environment. Flying buyers in from Europe, the Middle East and the USA, we also give them the opportunity to visit UK pet stores the day before they meet the suppliers. The store visits result quite often in identifying yet more suppliers with new products, in addition to the scheduled meetings on the following day.

The Meet the Buyer days are very focussed – the buyers get to see around a dozen UK suppliers on one day and the 25 minute face-to-face meetings allow for a good introduction to the company and their products.

Alongside the one-to-one meetings with buyers, the suppliers have the chance to attend informal round-table seminars and meet with export service providers, Department for International Trade representatives and the PetQuip team.

For UK suppliers an MTB day is a rare opportunity to meet key buyers, to put a face to a name and start to build a rapport, present samples/company brochures and to make a presentation as to why their product should be stocked.

The suppliers taking part receive profiles of the participating buyers prior to when a meeting takes place and can then apply for attendance. Many buyers specify their areas of product interest at the outset so suppliers know where they stand.

Buyers receive details of the suppliers applying for meetings and have the chance to check out their websites, enabling them to decide if a meeting is worthwhile. So both sides know something of each other's business and the buyer knows they are meeting the relevant contact. This is particularly important if the buyer is from overseas as not all contacts are able to discuss exports in detail.

If you are a supplier wishing to take part in MTB days, please contact Theresa Swann, Head of Events & Administration theresa@petquip.com for more information.

If you are a buyer and would like to take part, please contact Charlie Parker, Commercial Manager charlie@petquip.com or Eleanor Wigam, Research Manager eleanor@petquip.com. Contact telephone: +44 (0) 1959 565 995

The Best of British all under one roof

Trade shows PATS and AQUA – where UK pet and aquatic suppliers come together to showcase their products – are now recognised as ‘must-visit’ events on the global stage.

A growing number of distributors and large retailers from around the world are attracted by the two PATS shows each year and the AQUA exhibition every two years. All three events are now regarded as important international shows.

That’s welcome news to UK suppliers and manufacturers exhibiting at the shows, with the majority of them being exporting companies.

The venues for both PATS shows – Sandown Park in Surrey and the Telford International Centre in Shropshire – are ideally situated to make travelling to and from the shows as stress-free as possible.

PATS Sandown has always proved to be a popular choice for international visitors, being situated within easy reach of London Gatwick and London Heathrow airports as well as the Channel Tunnel.

PATS Telford is another great opportunity for overseas buyers to discover innovative new pet products from UK companies. With England’s two largest international airports (outside of London) ideally situated for Telford – Birmingham with 110 daily arrivals and Manchester with almost 200 – travelling to and from the event will be easier.

Organiser Gordon Thomas has attended other international shows like Interzoo and Zoomark and is always impressed with the level of interest shown in both PATS and AQUA.

“There is great interest in buying British,” says Gordon. “The UK pet market is the second largest in Europe and international distributors and retailers recognise that fact, and also that British companies invent and manufacture innovative new products. They want to see all the latest launches from UK companies and they accept that PATS and AQUA are the best places to do that.”

Gordon and his team work closely with PetQuip to ensure that both international visitors and UK suppliers get the most benefit from the exhibitions. PetQuip takes a stand at each event where its staff assists overseas enquiries and advises exhibitors how they can export their products.

There is so much to see and do during a visit to PATS and AQUA where everything that’s new is showcased under one roof.

As well as having the chance to see the latest products being launched on to the market, there will be a whole host of other activities to help international visitors make their visit a profitable one, including free-to-attend series of seminars covering a wide range of topics.
